Always Dreamed of Spending the Night In A Research Library?

As a genealogist, one of your favorite places is a library. If you’re researching West Virginia ancestors, there’s no better place to conduct research than in the Archives & History Library in Charleston. West Virginia’s statewide genealogy and history organization, the Mining Your History Foundation, is working with the library to bring you another night of unlimited research in the library’s collections, microfilm, books, newspapers, maps, manuscripts, and more:

⭐ Discuss your research with other genealogists in a friendly atmosphere
⭐ Get help from well known West Virginia genealogists, who will be on hand to offer help and guidance
⭐ Tour and explore the “upper levels” where who-knows-what can be found

⭐ To the researcher who has traveled the farthest to spend some quality time with us!
