Welcome!

The West Virginia State Historic Preservation Office, Division of Culture and History, would like to introduce to you our revised Grants Manual. In direct response to the need for education concerning our grants programs, we have produced this book that we hope will fill that need. In this book we describe the Historic Preservation Grants Program, the process, deadlines, eligibility criteria to receive grants and requirements after receiving grants. We have tried to make our grants program as user friendly as possible and believe that this new grants manual will be a great benefit to us as well as to you. As always, if you have any questions or concerns, please feel free to contact our staff.

The activity that is the subject of this Grants Manual has been financed with Federal funds from the National Park Service, Department of the Interior.

Regulations of the U.S. Department of the Interior strictly prohibit unlawful discrimination in departmental Federally Assisted Programs on the basis of race, color, national origin, age or handicap. Any person who believes he or she has been discriminated against in any program, activity, or facility operated by a recipient of Federal assistance should write to: Office of Equal Opportunity, National Park Service, 1849 C Street, NW, Washington, DC 20240

The National Historic Preservation Act of 1966 established programs for the identification, preservation and protection of our Nation’s historic properties. At the state level, these duties and responsibilities are assigned to the State Historic Preservation Office. In West Virginia, the State Historic Preservation Office is a section of the Division of Culture and History, Department of Education and the Arts.

The mission of the State Historic Preservation Office of the Division of Culture and History is to encourage, inform, support, and participate in the efforts of the people of West Virginia to identify, recognize, preserve and protect West Virginia’s prehistoric and historic structures, objects and sites.

The State Historic Preservation Office administers the State Historic Preservation Program that includes the following:

- The maintenance of an inventory of historic properties in cooperation with public agencies, private organizations, and individuals.
- The processing of nominations for properties eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places.
- The preparation and implementation of a comprehensive statewide historic preservation plan.
- The administration of the Certified Local Government program to provide direct funding to local governments through their established historic landmark commissions.
- Providing technical assistance, education and training related to historic property surveys, tax credits, national register nominations, archaeology, and historic preservation-related topics.
- The review of the Federal Historic Preservation Certification Applications for tax credits on revenue producing properties and state Historic Residential Rehabilitation Tax Credit Applications for historic residences.
- The promotion of the Secretary of the Interior’s standards and guidelines established for archeology, rehabilitation, and historic preservation.
- Consultation with state agencies, federal departments and the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation, interested persons and other consulting parties during the Section 106 review process of the National Historic Preservation Act.
GRANT PROGRAMS

The West Virginia State Historic Preservation Office administers two grant programs. The first of these programs is funded by the annual federal Historic Preservation Fund of the National Park Service. Known as Survey and Planning Grants, these grants are devoted to historic preservation planning and historic survey work. The second grant fund is funded by the State Legislature and is known as the State Development Grant Program. Development Grants are dedicated to the rehabilitation of resources listed in the National Register of Historic Places.

ARCHIVES AND HISTORY COMMISSION

Appointed by the Governor, the Archives and History Commission serves as a citizen advisory board for the Division of Culture and History. Traditionally, thirteen members, including two ex-officio voting members and five non-voting ex-officio members, serve on the commission. By law commissioners must represent the following professions: historian, architectural historian, historical architect, archaeologist specializing in historic and prehistoric archaeology, archivist, librarian and museum specialist. The Commission meets three times each year and is charged with the following duties:

- Provide advice to the Commissioner of Culture and History and the agency directors of the State Historic Preservation Office, State Museum and Archives and History Section.
- Approve and distribute grants and awards from federal and state funds.
- Request, accept or expend federal funds to accomplish the purposes of the Historic Preservation Office.
- Encourage and promote the purposes of the Division of Culture and History, the State Historic Preservation Office, State Museum and the Archives and History Section.
- Approve rules and regulations concerning the professional policies and functions of the Division of Culture and History.
- Review and approve nominations to the state and National Register of Historic Places.

West Virginia Goals 2009- 2014

Goal 1: Awareness: West Virginians will recognize and understand the value of our state’s historic resources.

Goal 2: Identification: West Virginians will identify, evaluate, and designate historic resources.

Goal 3: Advocacy: West Virginians will support and strengthen historic preservation activities across the state.

Goal 4: Community and Economic Development: West Virginians will incorporate historic preservation into economic and community development to maintain a sense of place.

Goal 5: Stewardship: West Virginians will safeguard/sustain historic resources in their communities and rural areas throughout the state.
Recognizing the essential importance of preservation at the local level, Congress amended the National Historic Preservation Act in 1980 to include the Certified Local Government (CLG) program. The program is designed to give national recognition to local preservation commissions and to empower communities in their preservation efforts. According to the act, each state historic preservation office must administer the CLG program and reserve 10% of their federal allocations for grants to participating local governments.

Local governments can participate directly in this program after certification by the West Virginia State Historic Preservation Office. Certification requirements are set forth in West Virginia Code 8-26A, West Virginia Legislative Rules 82CSR1, and the National Historic Preservation Amendments Act of 1980. Any city, town or county that wishes to be part of the program must establish a historic preservation or landmarks commission and meet the five following criteria:

- The CLG must enforce appropriate state and local legislation for the designation and protection of historic properties.
- The CLG must establish an adequate and qualified historic preservation review commission by state and local legislation.
- The CLG must maintain a survey and inventory system for historic properties within its jurisdiction.
- The CLG must provide for adequate public participation in local historic preservation programs including the process of nominating properties to the National Register of Historic Places.
- The CLG must also satisfactorily perform the responsibilities delegated to it under this law.
Through an application process using criteria and priorities established in the SHPO Annual Work Program by the Archives and History Commission, local governments may use Survey and Planning Grant funding for a variety of preservation activities, including architectural and archaeological surveys, National Register nominations, educational brochures, walking tours, guidelines for design review, feasibility studies of historic structures and other projects approved by the State Historic Preservation Office. Since funding for Survey and Planning Grants derive from federal sources, CLGs and other applicants must adhere to federal matching and spending guidelines.

More information about the CLG Program and application procedures is available from the CLG Coordinator.

The State Historic Preservation Office has two separate grant programs. One is the State Development Grant Program and the other is the Federal Survey & Planning Grant Program.

The State Historic Preservation Office is given authority by Chapter 29, Article 1, Section 1 and Section 5 of the Code of West Virginia, The National Historic Preservation Act of 1966, as amended (16 U.S.C. 470), Title 82, Series 2, Section 4 of the Division of Culture and History Legislative Rules and National Register Program Manual (NPS-49) to administer both of these grant programs.

PROCUREMENT PROCEDURES (Consultant/Contractor Selection)

It is one of the requirements of receiving a grant that proper procurement procedures be followed in hiring a consultant or contractor. Request for Quotations are prepared following federal guidelines and subgrantees are supplied with a Consultants List that is prepared by our office. This list is not an endorsement by our office of the consultant, but rather a list of qualified consultants to conduct the work as per 36 CFR 61 qualifications. Consultants must be chosen on their ability to conduct and complete the type of project solicited for in the Request for Quotation. If proper procurement procedures are not followed as required, the subgrantee risks the chance of forfeiture of the grant funds. All regulations and requirements are discussed and reviewed at a subgrant orientation meeting that all subgrantees are required to attend.

Wages rates paid by contractors must meet any governing West Virginia Department of Labor regulations.
MATCHING SHARE

At least 40% of the total budget for a grant funded project must be provided by the subgrantee, except Development project, where at least 50% of the total budget must be provided. Cash in hand to pay for services or materials is the simplest means of meeting match requirements. Non-cash contributions of materials or services provided by the grantee or nonfederal third party can also be counted as a component of the match.

The various sources which will constitute the matching share of the proposed budget must be distinguished according to the categories below and clearly described.

Cash - The dollars to be spent for any goods or services which are specifically for the grant project. These may be the grantees own funds or funds which are committed to the project by some other source. The cash to be used must be designated according to the following type of sources:

- Federal
- State
- Regional
- Certified Local Government
- County (non-CLG)
- Private, non-Profit
- Educational Institution
- Commercial Organization
- Private
- Municipal (non-CLG)

In general any goods or services for which cash is used must be acquired using the appropriate procurement procedure. These procedures will be outlined in the Subgrant Manual to be provided to all awarded grants.

In-Kind Goods and Services - This includes time or materials from several possible sources:

1) Staff Time - Any time which the subgrantee, or its staff spends to carry out the grant can be counted if properly valued and recorded. This time will count at whatever rate the staff person is employed under as long as the task he is performing for the grant matches the qualifications for which he is being paid. Non-paid time such as when the subgrantee, is a private individual is valued as volunteer time. Forms are provided in the manual on which to record this time.

2) Volunteer Time - Any time given by someone to administer or execute the work of the grant can be counted if properly valued and recorded. This time must be valued at minimum wage ($5.15/hour) unless documentation is provided of qualifications which match the task being performed for the grant. Then the allowable rate is based upon the State Civil Service pay scale for the equivalent position. Forms are provided in the manual on which to record this time.

3) Subgrantee Materials - Materials or supplies which are on hand and are necessary for the project may be counted if properly valued and recorded. Supplies from the office supply closet or copies made on your copy machine are examples of items in this category. Forms are provided in the manual to record these materials.
4) Donated Equipment and Materials - Materials, supplies or equipment time donated by a third party and necessary to the project may be counted if properly valued and recorded. Substantiation of their value may be in the form of financial records which indicate their purchase cost or a written quote from a supplier for a currently available equivalent item. Forms are provided in the manual to record these materials.

5) Travel - Travel may be counted in certain cases with preapproval from the State Historic Preservation Office. Mileage and lodging costs incurred to attend the mandatory Grants Orientation Meeting may be used toward the match if properly recorded. Mileage expenses are calculated at the current federal rate and must be recorded on the sheet provided in the manual.
STATE DEVELOPMENT GRANT PROGRAM

The State Development Grant Program is for rehabilitation of properties that are listed on the National Register of Historic Places or a contributing property in a historic district or/and archaeological development of a site listed on the National Register of Historic Places. Cultural Resource Surveys: To identify and evaluate properties in an area or by theme to determine whether they may be eligible for listing in the National Register of Historic Places.

Architectural/Historical Surveys: A reconnaissance or intensive level architecture/history survey of a designated study area or theme to locate resources that may be of historic significance. The survey must be completed in accordance with the Secretary of the Interior’s Standards and the WV State Historic Preservation Office Survey Manual and will include the completion of a West Virginia Historic Property Inventory Form for each documented property as well as a survey report that documents objectives, provides a description and history of the survey area, contains a bibliography, and makes recommendations for further work.

Archaeological Survey: Reconnaissance survey consists of a complete and systematic inspection of a designated study area to locate prehistoric and historic archaeological sites. It involves the investigation of both surface and subsurface contexts. Intensive survey consists of conducting limited archaeological excavation and archival research in order to determine whether a site is eligible for inclusion in the National Register of Historic Places. A research design must be submitted and approved prior to the initiation of field work. The research design must identify the qualified archaeologist who will supervise field work and laboratory analysis of any cultural materials recovered from the site. The field work must be conducted and a final report must be prepared in accordance with Guidelines for Phase I, II, and III Archaeological Investigations and Technical Reports (WVSHPO 2001). An archaeological site form must be completed for each site identified. All collected artifacts must be curated in accordance with the West Virginia State Historic Preservation Office Curatorial Guidelines and/or 36CFR79: Curation of Federally-owned and administered Archaeological Collections.

National Register: To assist organizations and individuals in preparing National Register Registration Forms for eligible individual properties and/or historic districts, and/or completing the National Register of Historic Places Multiple Property Documentation Form. Also, to prepare Registration Forms for a determination of eligibility when there is a majority property owner objection. For a district nomination, an architectural and history survey must have been previously conducted in the project area and the area has been previously determined eligible for listing. For an individual resource, the property must have already been identified as potentially eligible for listing by a qualified historic preservation professional.

Planning: To organize preservation information pertaining to identification, evaluation, registration, and treatment of historic properties in a logical sequence and set priorities for accomplishing those preservation activities. All projects must comply with applicable Secretary of the Interior’s Standards. Projects may include the following:

A local or county historic preservation plan: At a minimum, the plan should outline strategies for the identification, evaluation, nomination and treatment of historic resources within the area. Ideally it will be created as part of a community's comprehensive plan.

Historic context statement: An historic context statement is a document used for interpreting history and historic resources. It groups together properties that share a common theme, geographic area and time period, and describes the significant broad patterns of history in an area that may be represented by historic properties. The development of context statements serves as the foundation for making decisions about identification, evaluation, nomination and treatment of historic properties.

Ordinances, regulations, or standards, such as design review and historic preservation components of zoning ordinances: Design review and zoning are tools that can be used to protect resources and implement an historic preservation plan. They should ideally be created after an historic preservation plan has been developed.

Development, purchase, or implementation of advanced planning or computer technologies and applications for the purpose of furthering local or county historic preservation planning goals.
